2026 SHERWOOD DODGE SHANKLAND AWARD FOR THE ENCOURAGEMENT OF TEACHERS

DR. HANLIANG GUO, PH.D.

Assistant Professor in the Department of Mathematics & Computer Science

Hanliang “Han” Guo, Ph.D., serves as Assistant Professor in the Department of Mathematics & Computer Science at Ohio Wesleyan University. An applied mathematician, his research focuses on biological fluid mechanics, scientific computing, and data-driven modeling, including work on cilia and microswimmers published in leading journals such as the Proceedings of the National Academy of Sciences (PNAS) and Journal of Fluid Mechanics.

His pioneering research deepens our understanding of how microscopic cilia move fluids, a complex phenomenon he models to inspire the design of next-generation micro-robots. His prestigious scholarship has been featured in leading journals, including a recent cover article in Nature Physics. Dr. Guo’s contributions are further recognized by a significant $400,000 National Science Foundation (NSF) grant aimed at cultivating the future workforce.

Dr. Guo’s commitment to student success is evidenced by his dedicated mentorship, which has led to collaborative research and award-winning student presentations. An engineer by training, he discovered his passion for mathematics upon seeing its capacity to elegantly model biological systems. He now shares this enthusiasm through accessible community lectures, explaining how mathematical insights can even help us drive better.

2026 BISHOP HERBERT WELCH MERITORIOUS TEACHING AWARD

DR. VICKI DILILLO, PH.D.

Professor in the Department of Psychology

Vicki DiLillo, Ph.D., is a Professor in the Department of Psychology and serves as the co-director of the Public Health program at Ohio Wesleyan University. Since joining the faculty in 2004, Dr. DiLillo has pioneered a curriculum that bridges clinical expertise with community wellness, instructing core courses such as Counseling and Psychotherapy, Health Psychology, and Behavior Modification.

A specialist in clinical health psychology, Dr. DiLillo’s scholarship examines modifiable risk factors for cardiovascular disease, including stress, obesity, and physical activity, with a particular focus on health behaviors in college students. Her work utilizes “Motivational Interviewing,” a sophisticated clinical strategy designed to empower individuals to overcome the psychological barriers to lifestyle change. This expertise directly benefits her students, whom she mentors in the delicate art of balancing physiological data with human motivation.

Dr. DiLillo’s commitment to the student experience extends beyond the laboratory; she is a dedicated mentor who has served as a Faculty Partner to the Battling Bishops softball team for over a decade. Her excellence as a teacher-scholar has been recognized through the prestigious Sherwood Dodge Shankland Award for Encouragement of Teachers (2008) and her appointment to the Libuse L. Reed Endowed Professorship (2013).

2026 WELCH AWARD FOR SCHOLARLY OR ARTISTIC ACHIEVEMENT

DR. PAUL DEAN, PH.D.

Professor in the Department of Sociology & Anthropology

Paul Dean is a Professor and Chair of the Department of Sociology & Anthropology at Ohio Wesleyan University. He is a devoted teacher-scholar who finds great purpose in mentoring and teaching students. His scholarship focuses on inequality, first-generation students, social movements, and globalization. Dr. Dean's commitment to student success extends far beyond the lecture hall. He has pioneered transformative travel-learning opportunities, leading students to destinations including Denmark, Germany, Haiti, and Vietnam. This dedication to mentorship is further evidenced by his frequent co-authored publications with students.

As the first member of his family to attend college, Dr. Dean describes his college and professional experiences as becoming immersed in an entirely new world. He recounts having to learn the unwritten rules for how to speak, dress, and interact with new peers. Drawing from his own journey, Dr. Dean's current work focuses on first-generation college students. This includes his 2025 book Class Cultures and Social Mobility, which explores how first-generation graduates navigate the unwritten rules to transform their working-class roots into unique professional strengths and use their education to make the world a better place.

Dr. Dean is also a speaker and workshop facilitator, helping faculty and staff throughout higher education to better support working-class first-gen students.

OHIO WESLEYAN UNIVERSITY
HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENT AND
2026 COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

MARY MCCANN '26, HON. D.F.A.

Acclaimed Actor, Entrepreneur, Educator

Mary McCann is a co-founding member of the Atlantic Theater Company, one of America's most celebrated nonprofit theaters. Since its inception four decades ago, the Atlantic has earned more than 110 combined Tony, Drama Desk, Obie, and Lucille Lortel awards.

A native of Put-in-Bay, Ohio, McCann began her journey at Ohio Wesleyan in the 1980s, when she studied economics and theatre for two years. During her time at OWU, she was a member of Kappa Alpha Theta women's sorority, Theta Alpha Phi national theater honorary, and performed in productions including Vanities and Antigone. McCann would go on to earn her undergraduate degree from New York University's Tisch School of the Arts.

McCann's career spans decades of critically acclaimed work in theater, film, and television. She has originated roles in world premiere productions by some of America's most celebrated playwrights, including Ethan Coen, Annie Baker, Jez Butterworth, David Mamet, and Craig Lucas. She has performed alongside Spalding Gray, Wendy Wasserstein, and Simon Russell Beale, and earned particular praise for her three collaborations with playwright Simon Stephens, most recently in On the Shore of the Wide World. Her Broadway credits include a year-long run in Oleanna at the Orpheum Theater.

McCann's contribution to American theater extends far beyond the stage itself. As the co-founder of the Atlantic Theater Company, McCann built the institution from the ground up into a nationally recognized home for new American theater. What began as a shared artistic vision has grown into one of the country's most honored nonprofit stages, with McCann continuing to be a driving force behind the company's enduring success.

As the current Executive Director of the Atlantic Acting School, McCann leads the educational arm of the Atlantic Theater Company, overseeing its faculty, programming, and mission. She is one of the foremost teachers of Practical Aesthetics, a rigorous approach to actor training that connects artistic discipline with genuine self-knowledge, and has dedicated herself to preparing the next generation of professional actors.

In recognition of her many achievements, McCann will receive an honorary OWU Doctor of Fine Arts degree during today's Commencement ceremony. Honorary doctorates are the University's highest honor, awarded to individuals who have demonstrated excellence in their fields and made significant contributions to the betterment of the world.

OHIO WESLEYAN UNIVERSITY

2026 STUDENT COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

JASON LEE HARRIS, B.A.

Today, Jason Harris earns his Bachelor of Arts degree in Sport and Exercise Management. At Ohio Wesleyan, the Columbus, Ohio, resident says he had “the privilege of engaging in a wide range of meaningful academic, athletic, and leadership experiences that have shaped both my personal and professional development.”

Harris was a wide receiver on the Battling Bishops football team for three seasons and also served as president of the Omicron Rho Chapter of Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, Inc. In addition, he was an active member of the Black Student Union, Wesleyan Council on Student Affairs, Student Inclusion Advocacy Committee, and Athletes in Action.

“My experience at Ohio Wesleyan has been defined by growth, opportunity, and intentional engagement,” Harris says. “I have developed not only as a scholar but also as a leader and individual. OWU is an institution that reflects the effort you invest, and I fully embraced every opportunity presented to me.

“Through these experiences, I strengthened my ability to lead, collaborate, and adapt in diverse environments while continuing to grow socially, emotionally, and academically. These lessons have prepared me to approach future challenges with confidence, resilience, and a commitment to continuous improvement.”

Academically, Harris says his major, part of OWU’s Department of Health and Human Kinetics, provided valuable hands-on experience that bridged classroom learning and real-world application.

“I gained exposure through internships at the Division I level and had the unique opportunity to travel internationally to Spain to compete in football,” he says. “These experiences broadened my perspective, enhanced my cultural awareness, and deepened my passion for the sports industry.”

In the fall, Harris will attend Florida State University to pursue a Master of Science in Sport Management and Psychology. Ultimately, he plans to earn a Ph.D. and pursue a career as a director of player personnel/development.

“I am deeply grateful for my time at OWU, as it has been instrumental in shaping who I am today,” Harris says. “With the foundation I have built and the mindset I have developed, I am confident in my ability to achieve my goals and make a lasting impact in my field.”

NOTES ON ACADEMIC DRESS

The history of academic dress reaches back to the early days of the oldest universities. A statute of 1321 required all “Doctors, Licentiate, and Bachelors” of the University of Coimbra to wear gowns. In England during the second half of the 14th century, the statutes of certain colleges forbade “excess in apparel” and prescribed the wearing of a long gown. It is still a question whether academic dress finds its sources chiefly in ecclesiastical or civilian dress. Gowns may have been considered necessary for warmth in the unheated buildings used by medieval scholars. Hoods may have served to cover the tonsured head until superseded for that purpose by the skull cap. The cap was displaced by a headdress similar to ones now recognized as “academic.”

European institutions continue to show great diversity in their specifications of academic dress. However, when American colleges and universities desired to adopt a system of academic apparel a half-century ago, they worked out a system that all might follow. The code for academic costumes now in effect was approved by the Committee on Academic Costumes and Ceremonies appointed by the American Council on Education in 1959. The following information is taken from that code.*

GOWNS. The gown for the bachelor’s degree has pointed sleeves and is worn closed. The gown for the master’s degree has an oblong sleeve, open at the wrist, with the sleeve base hanging down in the traditional manner. The rear part of the sleeve’s oblong shape is square cut and the front part has an arc cut away. It may be worn open or closed. Bachelor’s and master’s gowns have no trimming, but the doctor’s may be faced on the front with black or colored velvet and with three bars of the same across the sleeves. If color is used, it is the color distinctive of the subject to which the degree pertains, and it matches the edging or binding of the hood. For all academic purposes, including trimmings of doctors’ gowns, edging of hoods, and tassels of caps, the colors associated with different subjects are as follows:

Agriculture—Maize	Medicine—Green
Arts, Letters, Humanities—White	Music—Pink
Commerce, Accountancy, Business—Drab	Nursing—Apricot
Dentistry—Lilac	Oratory (Speech)—Silver Gray
Economics—Copper	Pharmacy—Olive Green
Education—Light Blue	Philosophy—Dark Blue
Engineering—Orange	Physical Education—Sage Green
Fine Arts—Brown	Public Administration—Peacock Blue
Forestry—Russet	Public Health—Salmon Pink
Journalism—Crimson	Science—Golden Yellow
Law—Purple	Social Work—Citron
Library Science—Lemon	Theology—Scarlet
	Veterinary Science—Gray

HOODS. Hoods are lined with the official color or colors of the college or university conferring the degree. The binding or edging of the hood is a color distinctive of the subject to which the degree pertains.

CAPS. Mortarboards are generally worn as part of the academic costume. The long tassel fastened to the middle point of the cap’s top is either black or the color appropriate to the subject. It is customary for degree candidates to wear the tassel on the right side before degrees are conferred and to shift them to the left when the degrees are awarded. This custom is in some respects a substitute for the individual hooding.

THE UNIVERSITY SEAL OF OFFICE AND THE ORIGINAL UNIVERSITY HANDBELL

The Seal of Office worn by Dr. vandenBerg was designed by Mr. Reveley G. Beattie, a former trustee, and a member of the jewelry firm that made it. The seal symbolizes administrative responsibility and is suspended from a chain, the links of which are copied from a chain-mail surplice. A laurel wreath, ancient symbol of a chief executive, surrounds a replica of the official seal of the University and is quartered by keystones, representing the broad divisions of a liberal arts education. Two medallions are set in the chain above the presidential seal, one of which carries a replica of the tower of University Hall, surrounded by the motto: "Christ the Chief Cornerstone." The other seal is a reproduction of the globe with the inscription: "Serving All Mankind Worldwide."

The Commencement ceremonies will conclude with the ringing of the handbell first used in 1842 to call classes to order. It was presented to the University in 1941 by Nicholas Jones, grandson of the original owner, on the 100th anniversary of Founders' Day. It will also be used as a part of the opening Convocation in August.

PHOTOGRAPHY AT COMMENCEMENT

Ohio Wesleyan has several professional photographers and videographers in place at Commencement. Please remain in your seats during the ceremony to allow the professionals access to all areas. Family photos can be taken before and after the ceremony.

A professional photographer from Graduation Foto® will take a photograph as Dr. vandenBerg hands each graduate their diploma. In addition, each graduate will pose for a portrait at the designated backdrop as they exit the stage. Each graduate will receive a photo proof approximately one week after Commencement, and may order prints directly with the studio or through GraduationFoto.com. There is no obligation to purchase prints, and graduates pay no charge unless prints are ordered.
